From Regret to Rape: The Reality is Some Women Do Lie about Being Raped. Here is how it devastated My Life, by Kumbie Ginnane. IUniverse, Lincoln, Nebraska: 2005 $US19.95, 245 pages.

Somewhere Fast: a novel, by Bob Beltz. NavPess, Colorado Springs, CO, USA, 2005. ISBN 1-57683-625-8. Trade Paperback, 240 pages. US$12.99. (This is a worthy novel, well written, engaging, and with very useful take home wisdom. It looks deep into the inner life of men in a way that few books have done. I recommend it without reservation. David Shackleton)

Love in the Present Tense; How to have a High-Intimacy, Low-Maintenance Marriage, by Morrie and Arleah Shechtman. Bull Publishing, Boulder, CO, 2004. www.bullpub.com. ISBN: 0-923521-81-X (In approximately 200, easy to read, double spaced, large font pages, illustrated with creative and sometimes humorous accounts from their case files, names changed of course, the Shechtman's offer good, well-written advice on what works and what does not in a committed relationship. A n outstanding addition to the typically feminine offerings in the field. Donna Dillman)

Channeling Biker Bob; Heart of a Warrior, by Nik C. Colyer. Henriouille Publishing Group, Nevada City, CA, 2001 ISBN: 0-9708163-8, 270 pages trade paperback, US $13.95, C$21.95.

(My only criticism of the book is that its plot resolution is a feel-good fantasy. Despite that criticism, I strongly recommend this book. It is fully worth acquiring for several reasons: as a moving story of personal recovery, as an entertaining adventure novel, and as an enlightened, coherent philosophy of masculine redemption and emancipation. David Shackleton.)

Why Men Earn More: The Startling Truth Behind the Pay Gap - and What Women Can Do About It. By Warren Farrell, Ph.D. AMACOM, New York, 2005. ISBN 0-8144-7210-9.
www.amacombooks.org and www.warrenfarrell.com Hard cover, US $23.00, 270 pages.

(It's about all those people out there, reasonable, fair-minded people, by and large, but human beings who are ignorant of the issues we know and love. Reaching those people is our next battleground, and Why Men Earn More is as likely as any book to help us get there. Steven Svogoda)

Something Lost, a novel by Pat Duffy Hutcheon. Xlibris Corporation, USA, 2004 ISBN: 1-4134-4073-8, 358 pages, softcover. Orders: 1-888-795-4274, www.Xlibris.com. (I am pleased to recommend this novel to readers for its powerful insights into both academic feminist politics and into the character of a very human woman. Something Lost is definitely worth the money and the time you will invest to acquire and to read it. David Shackleton)

Challenge, A Journal of Male Perspectives, edited and published by Dan Racicot. Mountaintop Press, Sudbury, ON, Volume 1, 2004, 143 pp. Available for $14.95C + postage at

Author's website: www.menalive.com ('Truly, this is a book that keeps on giving even beyond its last humorous, insightful, instructive page.' J. Steven Svoboda)

Six Battles Every Man Must Win ... and the Ancient Secrets You'll Need to Succeed, by Bill Perkins. Tyndale House Publishers Inc., Wheaton, Illinois, 2004. ISBN 0 -8423-8287-9 (hard cover), 141 pages. ('Forming community and supporting and nourishing men in community are second nature to Bill Perkins, and his ministry and publications are dedicated to these ends.')

Courting A Woman's soul: Going Deeper into Loving and being Loved, by John Lee; Monarch Publishing Associates, Woodstock, Georgia, 2003. $12.95. 134 pp.
www.jlconline.com (This is a short book that I read cover to cover during one day's morning and evening commute, an hour altogether. Highly recommended. J. Steven Svoboda)

Keys to the Kingdom, by Alison A. Armstrong. PAX Programs, Inc., Sherman Oaks, CA, 2003. 208 pages. $15.95. www.celebratingmen.com. ('Keys to the kingdom is likely to bring tears to your eyes, joy to your heart, and fascinating new thoughts to your brain. Don't miss it!' Steven Svoboda)

Broad Sides: One Woman's Clash with a Corrupt Culture, by Ilana Mercer. Toad Tomes Publishers, Washington, USA, 2003 257 pages, soft cover, ISBN 0-9741039-0-X.
www.ilanamerger.com ('Given the current cultural overvaluing of the ideas of the left, however, it is a witty, thoughtful, and very important antidote to leftist one-sided arrogance. I heartily recommend it to readers of Everyman. David Shackleton')

From Regret to Rape: The Reality is Some Women Do Lie about Being Raped. Here is how it devastated My Life. (From Regret to Rape reads like a novel from beginning to end, feeding the head as well as the heart. Typos, bad chronology and all, I give it my highest possible recommendation. Kumbe Ginnane has an important story to tell.' J. Steven Svoboda)
